

Volunteer Role Description

Role Title:	Layers of London Volunteer Contributor: London's Pubs
Role Purpose:	To help create a collection of records relating to London's pubs, past and present
Role Description:	We are looking for volunteers to help source information and images relating to London's pubs. The role will involve researching websites and publications to gather data, taking new photos of pubs as appropriate, conducting interviews and creating records on the Layers of London website which will contribute to a collection of London's Pubs
Role Reports To:	Liam Cunningham (Layers of London Volunteer Co-ordinator) Adam Corsini (Layers of London Public Engagement Officer)
Where:	Volunteers will be assigned an area of London. This role can be carried out remotely from home, though may require site visits to take new images. The Institute of Historical Research library will be accessible for research.
When:	We ask for a minimum of five hours a week.
Duration:	We ask that for an initial commitment of three months, from Nov 2019 – Jan 2020.
Requirements:	No specific skills are required, though we ask for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• An interest in London's history</li><li>• An interest in the history of public houses and taverns</li><li>• Able to commit 5 hours a week for 3 months</li></ul>
Commitment to you:	We will reimburse volunteer expenses for travel of up to £10 per day (proof of travel must be provided)  Volunteers will: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• be trained in how to create and add content to the Layers of London website</li><li>• gain knowledge of London</li><li>• gain knowledge of the history of pubs and taverns</li><li>• have the chance to work as a team</li></ul>
Why We Want You:	Layers of London is a crowdsourced website, combining historic maps, datasets and people's personal histories, memories and interests. The site is enriched by the more contributions it receives and the Layers of London team are looking to add this collection of pubs and taverns to record the histories of these establishments.
